NO: 4:15-CV-5092-TOR

ORDER DENYING PLAINTIFF'S MISCELLANEOUS MOTIONS FOR RELIEF

BEFORE THE COURT are the following motions: (1) Plaintiff's Urgent Request for Court to Believe Him and File His Complaint to Save His Life (ECF No. 20); (2) Plaintiff's Request for Appointment of Counsel (ECF No. 21); (3) Plaintiff's Prayer for Relief (ECF No. 22); (4) Plaintiff's Order to Show Cause for a Preliminary Injunction and a Temporary Restraining Order (ECF No. 29); (5) Plaintiff's Request for the Court to Consider Defendant's Answer to His Complaint as a Motion for Summary Judgment and to Deny It (ECF No. 31); (6) Plaintiff Has Shown Sufficient Evidence of Cause for a Preliminary Injunction (ECF No. 34); (7) Plaintiff's Request for a Court Order of a Physical Examination and Blood

2 Immediate Placement in Prisons Infirmary/And Update on Hep C Treatment Issue
3 (ECF No. 47). These matters were submitted for consideration without oral 4 argument. This Court—having reviewed the briefing, the record, and files 5 therein—is fully informed.

6 BACKGROUND

7 Plaintiff Larry Heggem, currently incarcerated at the Washington State 8 Penitentiary in Walla, Walla, Washington, commenced this suit on September 10, 9 2015. ECF No. 1. After ordering Plaintiff to show cause why he should be 10 permitted to proceed in forma pauperis in light of his prior litigation history, which 11 includes four “strikes” under 28 U.S.C. § 1915(g), this Court allowed Plaintiff to 12 file an Amended Complaint, which was served upon Defendants in December 13 2015. ECF Nos. 16, 18. In his Amended Complaint, Plaintiff asserts, inter alia, 14 that he is being denied medical treatment in violation of his Eighth Amendment
15 rights. ECF No. 17.

16 Plaintiff has filed a litany of motions, which this Court construes as the 17 following: requests that the Court (1) file Plaintiff's complaint, (2) appoint Plaintiff 18 counsel, (3) grant Plaintiff preliminary injunctive relief, (4) order medical 19 examinations of Plaintiff, and (5) construe Defendants' Answer as a Motion for 20 Summary Judgment and deny it. See ECF Nos. 20, 21, 22, 29, 31, 34, 41, 47.

DISCUSSION

A. Request to File Complaint

To the extent Plaintiff is asking this Court to file his complaint, see ECF No. 2, this request is denied as moot. Plaintiff's Amended Complaint was docketed on December 18, 2015. ECF Nos. 17; 22 at 10-11.<sup>1</sup>

B. Request for Appointment of Counsel

Generally, a person has no right to counsel in civil actions. However, the court has discretion to designate counsel pursuant to 28 U.S.C. § 1915(e)(1) under “exceptional circumstances.” Palmer v. Valdez, 560 F.3d 965, 970 (9th Cir. 2009). “When determining whether ‘exceptional circumstances’ exist, a court must consider ‘the likelihood of success on the merits as well as the ability of the petitioner to articulate his claims pro se in light of the complexity of the legal <sup>1</sup> To the extent Plaintiff is attempting to add additional claims or otherwise amend his Amended Complaint, see ECF Nos. 21 at 2-4 (asking the Court to treat his case under the American Disabilities Act); 35 at 4 (discussing his first amendment rights), such an amendment is accomplished by seeking leave to amend under Federal Rule of Civil Procedure 15. See United States v. Corinthian Colleges, 655 F.3d 984, 995 (9th Cir. 2011) (explaining amendment standard).

1 issues involved." Id. (quoting Weygandt v. Look, 718 F.2d 952, 954 (9th Cir.
2 1983)).

3 Here, Plaintiff has failed to demonstrate exceptional circumstances to 4 warrant appointment of counsel. Based on the filings before this Court, this Court 5 finds Plaintiff has demonstrated a reasonable ability to articulate his claims and 6 there is nothing particularly complex about the factual and legal issues presented in 7 the Amended Complaint. Further, based on the evidence currently before this 8 Court, the likelihood of success on the merits is minimal. Accordingly, Plaintiffs' 9 request for counsel (ECF No. 21) is denied.

10 C. Request for a Preliminary Injunction or Temporary Restraining 11 Order

12 The Prison Litigation Reform Act provides that "[p]reliminary injunctive 13 relief must be narrowly drawn, extend no further than necessary to correct the 14 harm the court finds requires preliminary relief, and be the least intrusive means 15 necessary to correct that harm." 18 U.S.C. § 3626(a)(2). These standards also apply 16 to prospective relief. Id. § 3626(a)(1). Further, the court must "give substantial 17 weight to any adverse impact on public safety or the operation of a criminal justice 18 system caused by the preliminary relief and shall respect the principles of comity .
19 . . in tailoring any preliminary relief." Id. § 3626(a)(2); see Gilmore v. California, 20 220 F.3d 987, 999 (9th Cir. 2000) ("Section 3626(a) . . . operates simultaneously to

1 restrict the equity jurisdiction of federal courts and to protect the bargaining power 2 of prison administrators—no longer may courts grant or approve relief that binds 3 prison administrators to do more than the constitutional minimum.”).

4 Pursuant to Rule 65 of the Federal Rules of Civil Procedure, the Court may 5 grant preliminary injunctive relief or a temporary restraining order. Fed.R.Civ.P.
6 65(b). The analysis for granting a temporary restraining order is “substantially 7 identical” to that for a preliminary injunction. Stuhlbarg Int’l Sales Co., Inc. v.
8 John D. Brush & Co., Inc., 240 F.3d 832, 839 n.7 (9th Cir. 2001). It “is an 9 extraordinary remedy never awarded as of right.” Winter v. Nat. Res. Def. Council, 10 Inc., 555 U.S. 7, 24 (2008). To obtain this relief, a plaintiff must establish that (1) 11 “he is likely to succeed on the merits,” (2) “he is likely to suffer irreparable harm 12 in the absence of preliminary relief,” (3) “the balance of equities tips in his favor,” 13 and (4) “an injunction is in the public interest.” Id. at 20. Plaintiff must satisfy each 14 element; however, a stronger showing of one element may offset a weaker showing 15 of another. Farris v. Seabrook, 677 F.3d 858, 864 (9th Cir. 2012) (“We have also 16 articulated an alternate formulation of the Winter test, under which serious 17 questions going to the merits and a balance of hardships that tips sharply towards 18 the plaintiff can support issuance of a preliminary injunction, so long as the 19 plaintiff also shows that there is a likelihood of irreparable injury and that the 20 injunction is in the public interest.” (internal quotation marks omitted)).

1 Plaintiff's Amended Complaint alleges that Defendants have violated his 2 Eighth Amendment rights by providing inadequate medical care. "The government 3 has an 'obligation to provide medical care for those whom it is punishing by 4 incarceration,' and failure to meet that obligation can constitute an Eighth 5 Amendment violation cognizable under § 1983." Colwell v. Bannister, 763 F.3d
6 1060, 1066 (9th Cir. 2014) (quoting Estelle v. Gamble, 429 U.S. 97, 103-05 7 (1976)). "In order to prevail on an Eighth Amendment claim for inadequate 8 medical care, a plaintiff must show 'deliberate indifference' to his 'serious medical 9 needs.'" Id. Importantly, mere negligence, difference of opinion, or malpractice, 10 are insufficient to establish a violation of the Eighth Amendment. Estelle, 429 U.S.
11 at 106. "Rather, to show deliberate indifference, the plaintiff must show that the 12 course of treatment the doctors chose was medically unacceptable under the 13 circumstances and that the defendants chose this course in conscious disregard of 14 an excessive risk to plaintiff's health." Colwell, 763 F.3d at 1068 (internal 15 quotation marks and alterations omitted).

16 Here, Plaintiff's motion fails, primarily because he has not demonstrated 17 likely success on the merits or that the balance of hardships tips in his favor.
18 Plaintiff's presented filings merely restate his concerns about his medical issues
19 and the care he is receiving while in custody. Among the relief requested, Plaintiff 20 asserts that he requires several ultrasounds of various parts of his upper body; an

1 MRI of his left shoulder socket, shoulder blade, neck, and lower spine; a liver
2 biopsy; a gluten-free diet; opiate pain medication; and Hepatitis C treatment.<sup>2</sup> 3 However, Plaintiff fails to provide anything, beyond his allegations, to show that 4 the medical care provided by Defendants constitutes deliberate indifference to his 5 serious medical needs—the grievances and medical documents submitted by 6 Plaintiff in support of his motions do not demonstrate constitutionally deficient 7 medical care warranting a preliminary injunction. Plaintiff's filings demonstrate 8 that he merely disagrees with his providers about the proper course of his medical 9 treatment and which treatment is necessary. Based on the evidence before this 10 Court, this Court finds Plaintiff has failed to establish the necessity of a 11 preliminary injunction at this time. Accordingly, Plaintiff's numerous requests for 12 preliminary injunctive relief (ECF No. 22, 29, 34, 35, 47) are denied.<sup>3</sup>

13

14 <sup>2</sup> Pursuant to Plaintiff's most recent filing, it appears he has been approved for the 15 new Hepatitis C treatment. See ECF No. 47 at 2.

16 <sup>3</sup> Plaintiff requests that this Court take judicial notice of his life threatening 17 circumstances. ECF No. 29 at 43. "The court may judicially notice a fact that is not 18 subject to reasonable dispute because it: (1) is generally known within the trial 19 court's territorial jurisdiction; or (2) can be accurately and readily determined from 20 sources whose accuracy cannot reasonably be questioned." Fed. R. Evid. 201(b).

1                   D. Request for Medical Examinations

2                   Pursuant to Federal Rule of Civil Procedure 35, a court may order a mental 3 or physical examination:

4                   The court where the action is pending may order a party whose mental 5 or physical condition—including blood group—is in controversy to 6 submit to a physical or mental examination by a suitably licensed or 7 certified examiner. The court has the same authority to order a party 8 to produce for examination a person who is in its custody or under its 9 legal control.

10                  Fed. R. Civ. P. 35(a)(1). Such an order “may be made only on motion for good 11 cause and on notice to all parties and the person to be examined.” Id. at (a)(2).

12                  This Court denies Plaintiff’s request to order physical examinations and 13 blood tests. Rule 35 “does not allow for a physical examination of oneself.” Berg v.
14 Prison Health Servs., 376 Fed. App’x 723, 724 (9th Cir. 2010); see also Green v.
15 Branson, 108 F.3d 1296, 1304 (10th Cir. 1997) (upholding district court’s denial of 16 an inmate’s Rule 35 motion for an examination of himself where inmate’s primary 17 purpose was to obtain medical care and to complain of deliberate indifference to 18 his serious medical needs). Accordingly, Plaintiff’s motion (ECF No. 41) is denied.

19                  ///

20                  Plaintiff’s request is denied—this Court cannot take judicial notice of his alleged life-threatening circumstances.

1                   E. Request Regarding Defendants' Answer

2                   This Court denies Plaintiff's request that this Court construe Defendants' 3 Answer as a summary judgment motion and deny it. See ECF No. 31. Pursuant to 4 the Federal Rules of Civil Procedure, a defendant is required to file a responsive 5 pleading or a Rule 12(b) motion within a certain period after service of the 6 complaint and summons. See Fed. R. Civ. P. 12. While a party may file a motion to 7 dismiss, which, like a summary judgment motion, can be dispositive, Defendants 8 have not done so. This Court finds no basis to construe their filing other than what 9 it is: a responsive pleading. Accordingly, Plaintiff's motion (ECF No. 31) is 10 denied.

11                   F. Conclusion

12                   For the foregoing reasons, Plaintiff's various motions for miscellaneous 13 relief are denied. Plaintiff is, once again, reminded that a civil rights action is not 14 an open forum in which he may present all his grievances and complaints to the 15 Court. Plaintiff is also reminded to refrain from writing in the margins of any 16 future documents he submits to the Court and to cease filing superfluous 17 documents, including repeated submissions of the same document.

18                   ACCORDINGLY, IT IS ORDERED:

19                   1. Plaintiff's Urgent Request for Court to Believe Him and File His 20 Complaint to Save His Life (ECF No. 20) is DENIED.

2. Plaintiff's Request for Appointment of Counsel (ECF No. 21) is

DENIED.

3. Plaintiff's Prayer for Relief (ECF No. 22) is DENIED.

4. Plaintiff's Order to Show Cause for a Preliminary Injunction and a Temporary Restraining Order (ECF Nos. 29) is DENIED.

5. Plaintiff's Request for the Court to Consider Defendant's Answer to His Complaint as a Motion for Summary Judgment and to Deny It (ECF No. 31) is DENIED.

6. Plaintiff's pleading entitled, "Plaintiff Has Shown Sufficient Evidence of Cause for a Preliminary Injunction" (ECF No. 34) is DENIED.

7. Plaintiff's Request for a Court Order of a Physical Examination and Blood Tests and Supplement (ECF No. 41) is DENIED.

8. Plaintiff's Request for Additional Injunction Relief of Immediate Placement in Prisons Infirmary/And Update on Hep C Treatment Issue (ECF No. 47) is DENIED.
